Susan,

Marc Hatton can better answer your questions about their concept drawings. It is my understanding that they do not have a detailed cost estimate for the drawings. At this point in time, EPA does not have any cost estimates for any new cleanup alternatives to share.

I notice that you work for Geosyntec. Would you please let me know the name of the client that you are representing?

Thank you,

Michael

Thanks – Also – I know the city recently presented a revised alternative to the community. Does anyone have any of the details of that? They mentioned a cost and showed a drawing but I wondered if there was any backup for that?

Susan,

Diane will make sure that you get a notice about our upcoming meeting. We have not sent out any notices on Allied Landfill since early last year.

Thanks,

Michael

Thanks much – was confused because the info I saw from the city indicated that there was a new FS alternative but I did not see anything on the EPA site about it.

I still don't receive notifications for public meetings - I am signed up – any ideas of how I can be sure I get notifications?

Susan,

I am not sure what the KRCC put on their Facebook page, and EPA is not affiliated the KRCC. If you are looking for EPA's site updates, you can find them at the following webpage:

<http://www.epa.gov/region5/cleanup/alliedpaper/>

I do not think that any new materials were disseminated at either of these meetings. The meeting in December was an update on the status of the cleanup of the Kalamazoo River only. I did not attend that meeting, so Diane can answer any questions you might have about it. The February meeting was held by the city of Kalamazoo. They did not hand out any information at the meeting.

Thank you,
Michael

I see from the KRCC Facebook page that there have been some recent developments on the site. I have signed up to get updates and be invited to public meetings but I am never made aware of them. Is it possible to get copies of the materials that were presented at the Dec 11 and Feb 26 public meetings? Can I get a copy of the draft redevelopment plan? Thank you.
